

Differentiation potential of neural progenitors derived from hES cells shifts from neuronal fate in early cultures toward glial fate after prolonged propagation. The diagram presents the percentage of β -tubulin $_{III}^+$ -neurons and GFAP⁺-astrocytes that are generated following differentiation of hES cell-derived neural progenitors at various passage levels. Mean \pm SEM, n=3.